New Eden Musee.

The beautiful and realistic waxwork exhibition known as the new Eden musee opened last Saturday at Hale's Pavilion, and scored a great success. Upon entering the building one sees a tableau representing the execution of the Cuban patriots, Rodriguez, at Havana fortress. An office is about to give the signal to the soldiers to fire and a priest is leaving the unfortunate prisoner. Next are several groups representing scenes in Cuba before the war. All these groups are modeled after pictures by our great war correspondent, Frederick Remington. Then we come to several scenes during the Spanish-American war—life in the field, in the trenches before Santiago, Cuba, and scenes in the 2nd division hospital at Santiago. Following these the visitor will come across some remarkable groups of the San Francisco disaster. Robbing the dead is very realistic and the group representing the rich and poor being forced to dig graves for the dead is most lifelike. Another group shows some Frisco refugees who have lost their homes by the terrible calamity. Nothing like these wax figures has ever shown here before, and visitors who have seen the best of European waxwork shows proclaim these as equal in every way. The costumes, scenery and furnishings are perfect. The rides used in the Cuban groups are rifles captured from these people. The machetes are all genuine and in fact all the army equipment saw service in the Spanish-American war. This museum remains in Barre until next Saturday night and none should miss seeing it. Orchestral concerts every day from 2 till 5 and 7 till 10 p. m.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

STATE LINES.

There are 1,250 rural libraries in North Carolina.

Minnesota is larger than all New England and a much larger proportion of the land is tillable.

For a number of years Georgia has led in the production of peaches for the eastern market. The state has nearly 6,000,000 trees.

The enormous material wealth of the state of New York is in no way perhaps more clearly marked than in the fact that the total amount of real estate—lands and buildings—exempted from taxation is larger than the total assessed wealth of twenty-five of the forty-five states of the country.

How He Knew.

"Is your wife having a good time at the seashore?"

"Yes; she's enjoying herself splendidly."

"I suppose her letters are very cheering?"

"No; she doesn't write at all."—Judge.
